High School Pupils' Fees

City and town school boards of the province in future will not have to worry over collection of fees for high school pupils from other districts.

A scheme proposed by the Minister of Education provides for payment of the fees to school boards by the Government out of a fund created for this purpose instead of leaving the matter entirely between the two districts concerned.

There is in effect at present a regulation where the school board from which the pupils come must pay the S. D. providing the high school training a fee of $30 per year.

The S.D.s have experienced considerable difficulty in making these collections. In some cases the rural S.D.s are in a position to pay, put the matter off from time to time. As a result the districts which are providing the high school education are often forced to do so free of charge. Consequently the present system has not proven very satisfactory.

Under the new scheme, if a rural S.D. has no high school facilities, the pupils will be sent to S.D.s where a high school is maintained.

LOCAL NEWS.

Mr Leon Freifeld, formerly a merchant in Stony Plain, paid the town a visit on Friday last.

Mr Tipson, a former resident of this district but who had been farming for a number of years in Oregon, returned a short time ago and is planning to locate in Lacombe district.

Messrs J H Miller and H D Laird, the local Ford magnates, were in attendance Friday last at the Ford dealers' convention at the Macdonald hotel.

Mr Wm Rotne, a former resident of this district, who has been living in Portland, Ore., for some time, has returned to Stony Plain.

Mr Dutbie has the honor of driving the finest looking four wheel gas buggy seen hereabouts, which he acquired on Monday.

"Bill" Trautman, the well-known politician, is in the City today, interviewing Premier Greenfield.

Jack Messenger, Entwistle, was in Stony yesterday.

Raymond Shaul of Edmonton paid his parents a visit over the week-end.

Arbor Day was observed at the local school Friday afternoon by a general clean-up of the school grounds by the older pupils.

Quite an improvement was made at the Royal Hotel last week, Mr Miller having enlarged the beer salesroom by taking in the space formerly occupied by Wong Chee.

While shopping in town Saturday evening Councillor Goerz was unfortunate to have some person remove his mackinaw which was reposing in the back seat of a friend's auto. The garment has not been recovered as yet.

This is proving a banner year in this district for the sale of autos. Right on the heels of the receipt by Johnny Miller of the second carload of Fords, in comes a carload of the new model Chevrolet to Mr Somerfield's garage. Mr O Hoffman, agent for the Star, is now giving demonstrations with the new car he brought from the City Friday.

A meeting of the Liberals of town and district has been called for Saturday May 16, in the Town Hall. W E Bristow, president of the Liberal association, will be in the chair. A number of prominent speakers will be present, among these being Capt. Bowen, M. L. A., Mr J T Reilly, and Mrs R E Wood. This meeting is a preliminary to the regular convention to be held for the Stony Plain constituency.

On the completion of alterations to the premises suggested by the Inspector, the Spruce Grove hotel commenced operating the beer sales room this week. Mr Joe was the recipient of congratulations from his very numerous friends.

RED ROSE COFFEE "is good coffee"

The Richer Life Of The West

The people of the prairie provinces of Canada are engaged in the very large task of converting an empire of vacant or still sparsely settled territory into a thriving nation, and in doing so are seeking to lay foundations firm and true upon which the great structure of the future shall be erected. While much has been accomplished, the days of the pioneers are by no means past, and tasks enormous in their magnitude yet call for the initiative and energies of Western people.

It is both natural and inevitable that during these years of pioneer settlement and development the thought and activities of the people should be directed to those material and physical things necessary to the opening of the country and providing for its financial success and prosperity. Problems of transportation by rail and ocean, the construction of roads and bridges, development of markets and access to them for Western products, questions of credits and adequate banking facilities, mortgage loans and rates of interest, and all the other economic problems therefore loom large at present throughout the West, and the very fact that they call for so much consideration, agitation and legislation, has a tendency to create in the minds of people elsewhere a false idea that the people of the West are wholly material, even mercenary in their outlook, giving little thought to or having little regard for what are generally termed the finer and better things in life.

The surprising thing about Canada's prairie provinces is not that so much attention is necessarily devoted to the material development and well-being of the country, but that such a large amount of time, earnest thought and hard earned money is so freely given by Western people in these early days of their country's history to what are termed the finer arts, and to the development of a strong, intelligent and cultivated citizenship. It is one thing for old established, well settled and wealthy countries to erect and maintain great universities, museums of art, conservatories of music, symphony orchestras, etc., etc., but quite another thing for sparsely settled pioneer communities to do so.

Nevertheless on these prairie provinces greater attention is being paid to the provision of higher institutions of learning than in many old and wealthy countries, and even in these still pioneer days the work of collecting art treasures, establishing museums, and cultivating a popular taste for the best in literature and music is receiving increasing attention and support.

None of the older Canadian provinces are putting forth anything like the same effort in the encouragement of good music among the masses of the population as is carried on year after year in these prairie provinces through the instrumentality of the annual musical festivals. In the older provinces and in the states to the south, good music is, as a rule, provided through the benefactions of a few wealthy patrons. Here in the West, where people of great wealth are few and far between, these "finer" things can only be made possible through the self-denying service of the people themselves, maintained by the small contributions of all.

These annual musical festivals, which are increasing in popularity and attaining a higher standard of excellence year after year, are but the culmination of faithful, painstaking work on the part of scores of small musical organizations scattered throughout the cities, towns, villages and rural districts of the Canadian West, and all of which are constantly bringing real pleasure and profit to their respective communities. And what is being accomplished in the development of a popular taste for good music is to an increasing degree also being accomplished in the realms of literature and art.

The people of the West are not mere money grubbers. They are striving hard to attain to material prosperity, it is true, and they are insistent in their demands that those material things essential to the attainment of that object shall be provided. But such material prosperity is regarded by the vast majority of Western people merely as a means to an end, that end being the enrichment of the whole life of the people and the upbuilding of as fine a country and race of people as are to be found in the world. The fact that so much is now being done to achieve that result when the means for its accomplishment are so limited, speaks volumes for the ideals and aspirations of Western Canadians, and holds promise of a rich and wonderful future.

"Play Streets"

Where Automobiles Are Banned and Children Can Romp Without Fear of Death

In some cities of the United States the problem of safeguarding the lives of children has been solved by the designation of certain streets as "play streets." During certain hours of the day automobiles are denied access to these designated zones. The plan, it is said, has proved to be popular with the kiddies, their parents and the motorists themselves.—Hamilton Spectator.

Sixty-two billion tons of coal, half of this amount recoverable, lie beneath the surface of Alberta soil, according to Prof. J. A. The commission was also told that $12,000,000 had been lost by the abandonment of coal mines during the past 20 years. This loss is ascribed to loss of markets.

NEW STRENGTH FOR WEAK GIRLS

Can Be Had Through the Rich, Red Blood Made By Dr. Williams' Pink Pills

There comes a time in the life of almost every girl when weakness attacks her. The strain upon her blood supply is too great, and there comes headaches and backaches, loss of appetite, attacks of dizziness, heart palpitation, a constant weariness and a tendency to a decline. All these symptoms may not be present in any particular case, but the presence of any one of them shows the necessity for prompt treatment. And the very best treatment is through the blood-making tonic qualities of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. They are the one thing needed to maintain the health of growing girls and women of mature years.

Here is a bit of strong proof:—Miss Matilda Breau, King Highway, Newcastle, N.B., says:—"I was in an extremely run-down and nervous condition. I was losing flesh, had a poor appetite, always pale, and suffered frequently from headaches. In fact my condition can best be described as miserable. I had tried several treatments but they did not help me in the least. Then, reading one day about Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, I decided to try them. After using three boxes I was much improved, but continued until I had taken six boxes, with the result that I am now well and strong, with good color and a hearty appetite. In view of what Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have done for me I cannot recommend them too highly."

You can get these Pills from any medicine dealer, or by mail at 50 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

For Increased Pensions

Commons Passes a Resolution Amending the Pensions Act

A resolution to provide for amendments to the Pensions Act was introduced in the house by Hon. H. S. Beland, minister of soldiers' civil re-establishment. Among the amendments contemplated are provisions for a definite pension, irreducible for two years in cases of pulmonary tuberculosis; for increased pensions to mothers whose husbands are physically helpless, or in a dependent condition; and for conditions under which pension may be continued to dependent parents.

The resolution was carried without further discussion, and a bill based on it was given first reading.

Juvenile Migration

London Saturday Review Deals With This Important Question

The London Saturday Review, dealing with the subject of child immigration in Canada, says the annual reports of the chief inspector of British immigrants' receiving homes show but little initiative and they carefully avoid criticism of the methods followed in connection with child immigration.

"Juvenile migration towards Canada," the Review says, "has too long remained only an adjunct to the work of reclamation of child life in the English and Scottish congested areas. These limitations should be removed and a state-aided and state-controlled system inaugurated that would be available for boys and girls of all classes."

HEART WAS WEAK NERVES ALL GONE

Mrs. J. H. Hallenbeck, 117½ Welland Avenue, St. Catharines, Ont., writes:—"I was in a gas explosion; it left me with a weak heart, and my nerves were all gone. I suffered everything; couldn't sleep, or endure any excitement, and when left alone I felt as if I could scream. I took dizzy spells, often falling and bruising myself. My mother read about your Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, and bought me a box, but having taken so many different kinds of medicine it just seemed that I did not have any confidence in any of them. I took one box of H. & N. Pills, and felt so much better I continued with them until I had used five boxes, and after I had taken them I did not need any more. I cannot praise, or recommend, Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills too highly after all they have done for me."

An Oil that is Famous.

—Though Canada was not the birthplace of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, it is the home of that famous compound. From here its good name was spread to Central and South America, the West Indies, Australia and New Zealand. That is far afield enough to attest its excellence, for in all these countries it is on sale and in demand.

—Every farmer and stock-raiser should keep a supply of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil on hand, not only as a ready remedy for ills in the family, but because it is a horse and cattle medicine of great potency. Chief of Royal Air Force Would Abolish Aeroplanes As a Menace to Civilization

Aeroplanes should be abolished because they are a menace to civilization, according to Sir Hugh Trenchard, chief of staff of the Royal Air Force in Britain.

Sir Hugh, one of the eminent British aviation authorities, brought his audience up with a jerk when he condemned the weapon he commands in a speech in London.

"All the good aeroplanes can do in civil life," Sir Hugh said, "cannot balance the harm they may do in war. If I had the casting vote I would say abolish aeroplanes. They are an infinitely more harmful weapon than any other and terrifically powerful. The aeroplane is the best offensive ever invented.

"It is a bad weapon for defence, but it is the only means of defence against other aeroplanes, and I doubt whether any one weapon will take its place within this century.

"Nearly all naval battles 250 years ago were fought within one mile of shore. An aeroplane may not sink ships 250 miles from shore, but it can damage them and prevent bombardment of shore positions. Within another 50 or 100 years the air will be the only practical efficient means of defending the empire."

Empire Settlement Act

Provisions Made For Three Thousand Selected Immigrant Families

Regulations for the settlement of the three thousand selected immigrant families who are being brought to Canada under the Empire Settlement Act, have been made public. They provide for the setting aside of land for the new settlers, the allocation of the lands to the immigrants at a price to be fixed by the independent advisory committee for the district in which the farms are situated, that all buildings on land for soldier settlers shall be placed in good repair, and that the total advances of all descriptions to any immigrant, including the value of the land and the British advances, shall not exceed $7,500 in the case of any one settler.

Tree Planting

Farmers Can Make No Better Investment Than Setting Out Trees

Trees are not only things of beauty. They are things of comfort, as well. They afford protection from the sun in summer and the winds and snow in winter. They conserve moisture and attract birds, which in turn maintain the balance of nature by destroying pestiferous insects. Saskatchewan has made a good beginning in tree planting; but it is only a beginning. This spring, and every succeeding spring, should see more and more trees set out on farms and in the cities, towns and villages until the saturation point has been reached.—Regina Leader.

Big Colonization Scheme

Purchase 260,000 Acres of Land in Central and Northern Alberta

Acquiring the tract of 260,000 acres of land holdings of the Western Canada Land Company, originally purchased from the Canadian Pacific Railway, the British Land Settlement Corporation plans a great colonization scheme for Central and Northern Alberta. The lands in question stretch across the province north of Edmonton from the district north of Vermilion to Wabamum. It is intended to bring out groups of immigrants who will receive financial assistance.

Salt Production In Canada

Salt production in Canada during 1924 amounted to 210,737 tons, of which quantity 207,979 tons worth $1,374,780 was marketed, according to a report issued by the bureau of statistics. Plants operated in Ontario contributed 97 per cent. of the total production, the balance, or 4,551 tons, was made up of shipments from the Malagash mine in Nova Scotia.

What's Doing in Saskatchewan?

By Walter P. Davisson, Author of "The Three-Pools"

For a decade prior to the change-over to more intensive cultivation, crop rotation and summer-fallowing, dairying and orderly methods of grain marketing, the farmers proved themselves as human as the rest of us, by indulging in extensive financing. Today, trust and mortgage companies enjoy a day-by-day relationship with 85 per cent. of Saskatchewan farmers. The liquid or frozen status of those loans has been subject to the three usual factors: The energy and ability of the borrower; crop conditions in his district; and the basis of valuation. The latter two considerations have played a conspicuous part in making necessary the erection of "The Debt Adjustment Bureau" in this province; legislative authority saying, in effect, to mortgagor and mortgagee: "Come, let us reason together." It is only fair to add that all the errors of judgment have not been on the side of the borrower or the lender.

Mislaying a Car of Wheat!

Bearing witness to flagrantly easy conditions of credit, I will resurrect two memories of a financial day that is past.

It was in 1910, out in what is known as "the Goose Lake country," and that spring the steel had just arrived at the western border of Saskatchewan enroute over the 400-mile stretch of line between Saskatoon and Calgary. Those were the days of dawn-to-dark wheat mining. I knew a man who shipped out three cars of wheat that fall. Things looked rosy. Friend farmer took a trip to see the folks in Eastern Ontario, and children gave them the details of the fertility in the far west. He returned in the spring, with a carload of dairy cattle, enthusiasm and additional funds. With the exception of an intervening dry season, the production record showed wheat shipments in rising numbers each fall—4 cars, 7 cars, 7 cars; and finally, having acquired neighboring lands, came the high record of 16 carloads of the golden grain. Then something seemed to happen in that district. There were three meagre crops in thin succession, and one disastrous dry season. Four straight non-revenue years. The easy days of easier money abruptly changed. Our friend found himself in possession of large holdings of unproductive and half paid for farms. His banker grew more intimate but less cordial. His holdings had to be opened and there were men to pay, whether the moisture came or not. The thing settled down to a marathon between expenses, accrued interest, and the rising tide of taxes. At the end it became a question of saving what was clear of encumbrance. It was pitifully little, I remember with what incredulous joy it was discovered (by Mrs. Farmer!) that an elevator receipt, covering an entire carload of wheat from the "big crop" had been hidden away carelessly in a bedroom drawer, and never missed! That, at least, was "clear." Those folks are in a California city today. Occasionally, I am sure, some lines from a well-known song must fit their case, "I stand in a land of roses, but I dream of a land of snow."

A Generous Money Market

On the other hand, an urban instance, arising out of the same velvet days in Saskatchewan, can be briefly told:

During 1924, 7 cities, 80 towns and 350 villages of the province borrowed a total of $1,000,000. During a specific eighteen months, between the years 1911-12, a small Saskatchewan town, with 2,300 people, went boldly onto the Toronto money market, asked for $250,000 by way of debentures, and got the money! Of course, the end came quickly. But the lure of the Sunny South could not operate to correct the balance in this case. What is now known as the local government board (Regina), a legislative body which grew out of those years of easy money, and must now pass on the necessity or wisdom of all civic borrowings in the province, acted as intermediary between the town and its bondholders. The end-result of the little community, including past principal and arrears of interest today totals some $400,000. This has been funded and spread over the next 35 years, and the bonds floated, call for an annual amortization payment of $22,500, which is within the power of the little town to pay. There is another side to this somewhat hectic picture of civic finance. From 1914 until today, the public borrowings of that town have been nil. That is undoubtedly an undesirable swing to the opposite balance, from the days when Toronto financiers loaned "not wisely, but too well."

The Power of Unity

In the field of ethics and morals, the people of Saskatchewan have been active, too. In the Church Union movement, 375 congregations have voted favorably, with but 16 dissenting. Recent liquor legislation, as these words are written, shows Saskatchewan retreating from an appalling experiment in prohibition. Two great sanitariums are waging a winning fight against what tuberculosis happens to show itself within the province. Saskatchewan feels that its political and economic rights are not always accorded 100 per cent. justice in the national parliament—but is loyal to the general interests of the Dominion, and carries on. Out over the countryside, members of the four outstanding groups of the organized farmers have been asking one another, "Whither goest thou?" and, finding themselves on the same road, are likely to create the united farmers of Saskatchewan.

The Beginning of Industry

The marvellous fertility in Saskatchewan farms originates, in a single year, almost 9,000,000 tons of freight traffic. This productivity from the energies of 815,000 people will be realized by bearing in mind the combined tonnage of the sea-borne commerce in the three premier ports on the Pacific coast during 1924—Los Angeles, 2,312,000 tons; San Francisco, 2,738,480 tons; Vancouver, 2,440,552 tons.

Yet Saskatchewan business minds agree that a way must be found to "finish" some of this vast raw material tonnage into a higher product. Today, therefore, as a result of Saskatchewan's distance from tidewater, and a somewhat unfavorable position in the freight rate structure of the Dominion, her people are commencing to think in industrial terms. They are beginning to wonder just why they should not balance their enormous grain production with a group of the greatest mills in North America. Perhaps this is not an unreasonable desire, in a province that can furnish the native brick to build those mills, the fuel to operate them, and the grain to feed them? Today there are 54 mills of various sizes in Saskatchewan. They are capitalized at four million dollars, and employ 654 people. The 1924 production of Saskatchewan mills totalled $12,000,000 in all grains, representing one-third of the year's factory output in the province. Undoubtedly, the next phase in the development of a well-rounded economic vitality in Saskatchewan will be the growth of her "infant industries"—urban echoes of her vast agricultural activities.

More People!

Saskatchewan's central need is merely an aggravated form of the need of the Dominion—more people. It takes people to make a nation, and just as health is the first wealth to an individual, so, too, the first wealth of a country is not its broad acres, nor its forests, nor its minerals. It takes people to make a nation great.

Saskatchewan today has the population of the City of Montreal, thinspread over a hundred thousand square miles. Think it over, and you will understand why the giant keystone province of the prairies is hungry for more people. Remember, too, that there are a further 150,000 square miles in the unsettled and unsurveyed section of Saskatchewan to the north. Imagine spreading Montreal's population over the empire that men call "Saskatchewan."

Today there are 6,450 miles of railway lines within the province. The population density is 125 people per railway mile. The per railway mile density in England is in the vicinity of 1,000 people along her lines. Her mileage is seven times Saskatchewan's; yet you could empty that "tight little isle" five times over into this mighty province!

Looking south, we see a nation which had a population something like Canada's today a century ago. To be precise, in the year 1820 there were 9,638,453 people in the United States. Even in that vast territory, with its mountainous flanks and myriad desert areas included, the per railway mile density throughout the nation stands at just 400 people. In 1909 there were 90 millions of people in the United States. They needed more, and they got them. Since then, just three times the total population of Canada has been added to the great neighbor to the south.

The Future

What of tomorrow? The bulk of those who would come to the United States find themselves locked out. It seems to me to be Canada's opportunity. The doors need not be flung wide, nor uncontrolled. It is a matter of "the selective draft" for peace! The cream of the emigrants from Northern and Western Europe can be won for Saskatchewan, and the other empty provinces of the Dominion.

So far as Saskatchewan is concerned, there is no standing still, and there is no effective middle course. Our population is too low. Our overhead is too high. Every authority in the nation realizes that this is true. There is hardly a cloud on the horizon—national, provincial or municipal—which will not fade before the beneficent effect of the millions of approved "New Canadians" from coast to coast.

New Bird Sanctuaries

Eleven new bird sanctuaries have been established in Saskatchewan by the federal parks branch. These sanctuaries are established for the protection of game birds during the breeding season.

An auto oil gauge which lights a small light on the dashboard when the oil supply becomes low is a recent invention.

Progressive Work Accomplished In Canada In Respect To Assisting Indian Population

Prize Cattle From West

Fine Consignment Shipped By Alberta Livestock Association

The first consignment of export cattle for 1925 left Montreal recently. It was in all probability the finest that ever left the shores of the Dominion. Consisting of two hundred and seven head shipped by the Livestock Producers' Association of Alberta (the president of which is H. P. Kennedy) and averaging around twelve hundred pounds in weight at three years of age, they made an imposing spectacle when viewed on the Montreal East End Stockyards where they were held for twenty-four hours following their long journey.

One hundred and twenty-five of the number came direct from Edmonton spring show where they had captured the first five prizes in the carload class. Others included in the lot were the grand champion steer formerly owned by the University of Alberta and five Hereford steers that took first place at Regina, Calgary and Saskatoon shows.

The lot was consigned to Mr. J. T. Irwin, Glasgow, under whose name a number of them will be shown at some of the leading shows of that country as an example of Western Canadian beef.

Canadian Sugar Industry

Considerable Increase in Production is Shown in Returns Made

Favorable progress by the Canadian sugar industry is shown in the statistical report issued by the bureau of statistics covering the activities of the industry for the month of March. For the four weeks ending March 28, the total manufactures amounted to 88,552,188 pounds of granulated and yellow sugar, as compared with 75,532,521 pounds of sugar for the same period last year. For the period from January 1 to March 28, inclusive, manufactures amounted to 214,445,157 pounds, as compared with 170,840,822 pounds.

To Protect Livestock

Committee is Selected to Probe Tuberculosis In Animals

Dr. H. M. Torey, as chairman of the Dominion scientific research council, announces the selection of the committee that is to make a Canada-wide investigation of the tuberculosis question as it affects animals. This committee will be under the joint chairmanship of Dr. Torey, representing the research council, and Dr. J. H. Grisdale, deputy minister of agriculture, Ottawa, and the first meeting, for organization purposes, is to be held in Ottawa at an early date.

Corn In Western Canada

Aggregate Value of Corn Crop in Western Canada Estimated at $4,163,000

The aggregate value of the corn crop of the prairie provinces last year is estimated to have been $4,163,000. The area planted last year in the three prairie provinces, with average ton yield per acre in brackets, was as follows: Manitoba, 60,176 acres (5.85); Saskatchewan, 87,115 (6.35); and Alberta, 67,472 (5.70).

Encourage Sugar Beet Growers

Sugar beet growers in Southern Alberta will be backed financially to the extent of $25 an acre by the Co-operative Credit Society of Alberta, according to an announcement by W. H. Caswell, inspector of the credit societies. The beets will be grown for the new $1,500,000 sugar refinery now being erected at Raymond.

Favors to Industries

Under the Industries Assessment Act, just passed by the Alberta Legislature, municipalities are granted permission to extend certain favors to industries, bonuses are not allowed but fixed assessments on a reduced basis are authorized.

Treat For London Children

Twenty thousand London school children are to be taken to theatres to see Shakespearean plays during the year. The cost, $6,000, will be borne by the London County Council.

The total number of Indians in Canada is 106,000, of whom 30,000 are to be found in the prairie provinces—Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta. The Indians own 5,000,000 acres of land and the amount of band funds held in trust for them is almost $12,000,000. They own livestock worth $4,500,000, and personal property of $65,000,000. There are 326 schools provided by the government for their education—day schools, boarding schools and industrial schools—and the average attendance at these is 12,000 pupils out of a possible 16,000 of school age. About 10,000 Indians still cling to their aboriginal beliefs, and of the remainder about half are Protestants and half Roman Catholics, says the Industrial and Agricultural Progress of Canada.

While the Indians of Eastern Canada are engaged in a variety of occupations, being in extensive demand for hunting, guiding, bushwork, etc., the majority of those in the prairie provinces follow agriculture almost exclusively. In 1923 they had 68,456 acres of land under crop, an increase of 15,942 acres over 1922. On this they produced 1,276,579 bushels of grain, an increase of 531,569 bushels over the year before.

A very fine example of the intelligent encouragement which is being given by the Canadian Government and the progressive work being accomplished through the active and enthusiastic co-operation of the Indian population is given in the case of the File Hills Indian Reserve in Saskatchewan, where wonderful results have been achieved. Under the commissioner's policy a portion of the reserve was set aside for graduates of boarding and industrial schools, and this was surveyed into farms of eighty acres. Each pupil was given a grant of $125 to buy lumber, etc., for his log shack, and a yoke of oxen, harness and plow, to be paid for in four years.

This was in 1903, when three colonists enlisted under the plan. Despite hardships and discouragements of various kinds, their number was added to yearly and increased by marriage until in 1915 there were thirty-six farmers, twenty-eight of whom were married, and the children of the colony numbered ninety-six. In that year they had 2,015 acres in crop, but an anticipated crop of 100,000 bushels was reduced by hail to 20,000 bushels.

Pigs Sensitive To Sudden Sunlight

Must Get Acquainted Gradually to Extremes of Light and Heat

Pigs require a range on the ground. Any breeder of hogs will tell you that, but while hogs require range they must be familiarized very gradually with the light and the sun. Contrary to our ideas generally the hog is a delicate animal under certain conditions, and one thing that will hurry his passage by the unprofitable route to the happy hunting grounds is a sudden change from a cool, dark pen to brilliant, scorching sunlight. While, therefore, the hogs should be let to the ground, a good deal of judgment should be used in keeping the porkers away from the extremes of light and heat, till there has been a gradual accustoming thereto. Even when this has been done, in a field where there are no shade trees, shelter should be provided into which the hogs may go for sleep or rest.

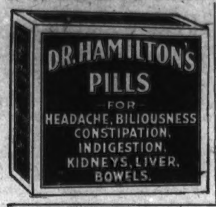

Higher Than Eiffel Tower

Two broadcasting towers are now under construction in Germany that will exceed in height all others in the country. Both will be provided with elevators, and will be used as observatories as well. One, to be located in a suburb of Berlin, will be 1,049 feet, topping the Eiffel Tower at Paris.

An Honest Taxi Driver

A Parisian taxi-cab driver turned over to the police a brief case containing 200,000 francs in bank notes and bearer bonds which had been left in his cab. He refused to give his name, answering, "I only did what any honest man would do and would not dream of taking a reward."

The trouble with holding your head too high is that you do not see the mud puddles.

Picture May Be Worth Million

Work of Old Master Bought in Junk Shop for $7.00

The picture owned by Mrs. Stuart Livingstone, Vancouver, showing a troubador in drinking pose, which she turned over some months ago to Signor Farina, an authority on the work of the old masters, for inspection, has been pronounced by him to be a genuine Velasquez and worth perhaps a million dollars.

The picture was bought in a Winnipeg junk shop 40 years ago for $7.

"CAPTAIN BLOOD," a Vitagraph picture with J. Warren Kerrigan in the title role, is an adaptation of this thrilling novel.

Things had not sped at all well with him in the past fortnight, since his acceptance of the King's commission. There had been trouble with Bishop from the moment of landing. As Blood and Lord Julian had stepped ashore together they had been met by Colonel Bishop, who took no pains to dissemble his chagrin at the turn of events and his determination to change it.

Blood's thoughts were upon this and other things as he lounged there on the day-bed. He had been a fortnight in Port Royal, his ship virtually a unit now in the Jamaica squadron. And when the news of it reached Tortuga and the buccaneers who awaited his return, the name of Captain Blood, which had stood so high among the Brethren of the Coast, would become a byword. And for what had he placed himself in this position? For the sake of a girl who avoided him so persistently and intentionally that he must assume that she still regarded him with aversion. Nor was that the worst of it. He was allowed plainly to perceive that it was the graceful, elegant young trifler from St. James's, Lord Julian Wade, to whom her every moment was devoted. What chance had he, a desperate adventurer with a record of outlawry, against such a rival as that; a man of parts, moreover, as he was bound to admit?

A boat that had approached unnoticed from the shore came scraping and bumping against the great red hull of the Arabella. Captain Blood rose, tall, active and arrestingly elegant in a scarlet, gold-laced coat that advertised his new position.

"A note for you from the Deputy-Governor," said Jeremy Pitt shortly, as he proffered a folded sheet.

Blood broke the seal and read. "It is a very peremptory summons," he said, and passed the note to his friend.

The young master's grey eyes skimmed it.

"You'll not go?" he said, between question and assertion. Why did ye let Wolverstone and the others go?" he cried, with a touch of bitterness "You should have seen the danger."

"How could I in honesty have detained them? It was in the bargain. Besides, how could their staying have helped me?" And as Pitt did not answer him; "Ye see?" he said, and shrugged. "I'll be getting my hat and cane and sword, and go ashore in the cockboat. See it manned for me."

"Ye're to deliver yourself into Bishop's hands," Pitt warned him.

Blood knew as well as Pitt that in going ashore that morning he carried his life in his hands. Walking leisurely, he skirted the embattled wall and passed through the great gates into the courtyard. On his right stretched a spacious garden, beyond which rose the white house that was the residence of the Deputy-Governor. In that garden's main avenue, that was fringed with palm and sandalwood, he had caught sight of Miss Bishop alone. He crossed the courtyard with suddenly lengthened stride.

"Good morning to ye, ma'am," was his greeting, as he overtook her; and, hat in hand now, he added on a note of protest: "Sure, it's nothing less than uncharitable to make me run in this heat."

"I beg that you will let me pass"

"Why do you run, then?" she asked him coolly, standing slim and straight before him, all in white and very maidenly save in her unnatural composure. "I am pressed," she informed him. "So you will forgive me if I do not stay."

"You were none so pressed until I came."

"Since you perceive it, sir, I wonder that you trouble to be so insistent."

That crossed the swords between them, and it was against Blood's instincts to avoid an engagement.

"Faith, you explain yourself after a fashion," said he. "But, since it was more or less in your service that I donned the King's coast, you should suffer it to cover the thief and pirate."

She shrugged and turned aside, in some resentment and some regret. Fearing to betray the latter, she took refuge in the former. "I do my best," said she.

"So that ye can be charitable in some ways!" He laughed softly. "Glory be, now, I should be thankful for so much. Maybe I'm presumptuous. But I can't forget that when I was no better than a slave in your uncle's household in Barbadoes, 'ye used me with a certain kindness."

"Why not? In those days you had some claim upon my kindness. You were just an unfortunate gentleman then."

"And what else would you be calling me now?"

"Hardly unfortunate. We have heard of your good fortune on the seas; how your luck has passed into a byword. And we have heard other things; of your good fortune in other directions."

She spoke hastily, the thought of Mademoiselle d'Ogeron in her mind. And instantly would have recalled the words had she been able. But Peter Blood swept them lightly aside, reading into them none of her meaning, as she feared he would.

"Aye; a deal of lies, devil a doubt, as I could prove to you."

"I cannot think why you should trouble to put yourself on your defense," she discouraged him.

"So that ye may think less badly of me than you do."

"What I think of you can be a very little matter to you, sir."

"Can ye say that now? Can ye say that, beholding me in this livery of a service I despise? Didn't ye tell me that I might redeem the past? It's little enough I am concerned to redeem the past save only in your eyes. In my own I've done nothing at all that I am ashamed of, considering the provocation I received."

"I—I can't think why you should speak to me like this," she said, with less than her earlier assurance.

"Ah, now, can't ye, indeed?" he cried. "Sure, then, I'll be telling ye."

"Oh, please!" There was real alarm in her voice. "I realize fully what you did, and I realize that partly, at least, you may have been urged by consideration for myself. Believe me, I am very grateful. I shall always be grateful."

"But if it's also your intention always to think of me as a thief and a pirate, faith ye may keep your gratitude for all the good it's like to do me."

A livelier color crept into her cheeks. But, if she resented his tone and his words, she stifled her resentment. She realized that perhaps she had herself provoked his anger. She honestly desired to make amends.

"You are mistaken," she began. "It isn't that."

"What is it, then?" quoth he, and added the question: "Lord Julian? Och, be frank with me," he urged her, unpardonably. "I will be a kindness, so it will."

"You—you are quite insufferable," she said. "I beg that you will let me pass."

"I'll not be detaining you any longer, ma'am. After all, the cursed thing I did for nothing can be undone. Ye'll remember afterwards that it was your hardness drove me."

"You take that tone!" You dare to take that tone!" she cried, astounding him by her sudden vehemence. "You have the effrontery to upbraid me because I will not take your hands when I know how they are stained; when I know you for a murderer and worse?"

"A murderer—I?" he said at last.

"Must I name your victims? Did you not murder Levasseur?"

"Levasseur? He smiled a little. "So they've told you about that!"

"Do you deny it?"

"I killed him, it is true. I can remember killing another man in circumstances that were very similar. That was in Bridgetown on the night of the Spanish raid. Mary Traill would tell you of it. She was present."

He clapped his hat on his head with a certain abrupt fierceness, and strode angrily away, before she could answer or even grasp the full significance of what he had said.

HER NERVES BETTER NOW

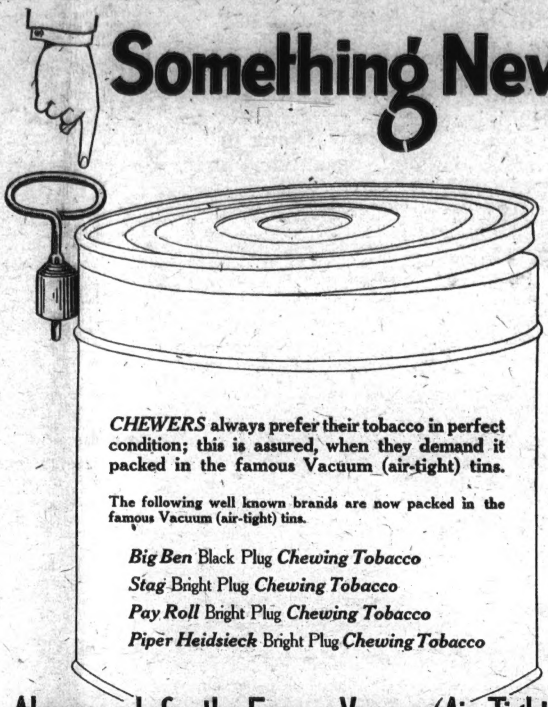

Received Much Benefit by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Chatham, Ontario.—"I started to get weak after my second child was born, and kept on getting worse until I could not do my own housework and was so bad with my nerves that I was afraid to stay alone at any time. I had a girl working for me a whole year before I was able to do my washing again. Through a friend I learned of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and took four bottles of it. I gave birth to a baby boy the 4th day of September, 1922. I am still doing my own work and washing. Of course, I don't feel well every day because I don't get my rest as the baby is so cross. But when I get my rest I feel fine. I am still taking the Vegetable Compound and am going to keep on with it until cured. My nerves are a lot better since taking it. I can stay alone day or night and not be the least frightened. You can use this letter as a testimonial and I will answer letters from women asking about the Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. Charles Carson, 27 Forsythe Street, Chatham, Ontario.

Mrs. Carson is willing to write to any girl or woman suffering from female troubles.

Liquor Manufacture In Canada

Canada's output of hard liquor continues to increase. In the fiscal year 1924, 4,411,896 proof gallons of spirits were actually manufactured in Canadian distilleries, compared with 3,828,879 in 1923.

MAKE CARE OF BABIES EASIER

Stomach disturbances and constipation are responsible for much of the peevishness of babies and young children. When the baby is cross or irritable the mother should not resort to so-called soothing mixtures to correct the trouble for in the majority of cases these mixtures simply drug the child into an unnatural sleep. What is needed is a gentle laxative that will sweeten the stomach and regulate the bowels. Such a remedy is found in Baby's Own Tablets. They are easy to take and are guaranteed to be entirely free from opiates and narcotics. Concerning them, Mrs. Jos. Tousaignant, Ste. Sophie, Que., writes:—"I would like all mothers to know that I feel there is no other medicine to equal Baby's Own Tablets. I always keep a box in the house and their prompt use never fails to restore my little ones to health." The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

C. N. R. MAIN ESTIMATES ARE TO BE REDUCED

Ottawa.—While spiritedly defending the operation of the Canadian National Railways in his annual statement on this phase of the system in the House of Commons, and expressing the view that the showing of the system had, to date, been phenomenal, Hon. George P. Graham, minister of railways, announced reductions in the estimates for the railways, with a view to lightening the financial burden of the country. Ten millions is to be eliminated from the main estimates, and supplementary estimates for the system will not be pressed.

Mr. Graham felt that when all things were considered, the success achieved by the Canadian National was phenomenal. He declared no private company had to struggle under such difficulties as the Canadian National. At one of the most critical periods of the world, the Canadian National had been handed a disjointed mass of intricacies, the chief entities of which had been plunged into bankruptcy under private ownership. There seemed to be an idea that public ownership should, at a stroke, remedy all the delinquencies of private ownership, during the last half century.

Transportation companies should be judged by the service rendered, and by the cost. Mr. Graham compared the operation of American and Canadian railways.

"In Canada," he said, "both the great lines of railway are above criticism, and, in fact, one of the great difficulties of both the Canadian Pacific Railway and the Canadian National Railways in this country is that the service in quality exceeds the remuneration in quantity. The service to the Canadian people is altogether too good.

Favor Rural Credits

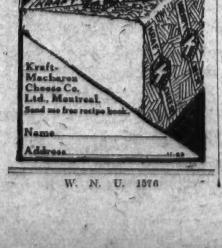

Two Senators Advocate the Adoption Of Government System

Ottawa.—Two speakers in the senate advocated the adoption by the government of a system of rural credits as a necessary aid to agriculture in the Dominion. Senator Mitchener believed that the scheme of credits recommended by Dr. Tory, president of the University of Alberta, would be successful in Canada. Senator Belcourt said that rural credits was the most important and practical scheme before the country.

Senator Mitchener also believed it to be the best scheme until the government provided a better system of financing agriculture. If there was a system of rural credits to consolidate the farmers' debts and secure extended terms for repayment, they could remain on the land and redeem their investment, he said, but, if not, thousands would have to lose all and leave Canada. There was no chance of progress in Alberta without aid of this kind.

Death Of Lord Leverhulme

Famous Soap Manufacturer Passes Away At Age Of 74

London. — Viscount Leverhulme, famous soap manufacturer and philanthropist, who has been ill with pneumonia for some days, died on May 7. He was 74 years of age.

Lord Leverhulme's private inclinations, as well as his business responsibilities, constituted him a great traveller. He frequently visited Canada, and when in Toronto in 1919 he took occasion to reiterate his views on the advantages of a six-hour working day as helpful to production. On his return from the United States a year later he declared that if Britain followed the States in going dry she could pay her debt to the States in five years.

In his later years, Lord Leverhulme suffered from extreme deafness. He had been a widower for a good many years. His heir, the Hon. William Hulme Lever, is acting chairman of the business which his father founded.

Saskatchewan Coal Is Shipped To Germany

Briquetting Test To Be Made Under New German System

Regina.—One of the investors most interested in the forthcoming briquetting tests in Germany on Saskatchewan lignite coal, Hugh Sutherland, Winnipeg, together with a party of industrial engineers, has left for Germany to witness the tests.

The fifty tons of coal shipped from Bienfait to Rotterdam for the experiments have reached the Dutch port safely, according to a cable received by Thos. M. Molloy, commissioner of the provincial bureau of labor and industries.

The briquetting tests will be conducted under the Thyssen and Stinnes systems.

Soldiers' Memorial Arch

Names of Soldiers From Different Parts of Empire to be Placed on Gates at Ypres

London.—The names of some 50,000 soldiers from all parts of the empire will be inscribed on the Memorial Arch at Menin Gate, Ypres, which is shortly to be erected by the imperial war graves commission in commemoration of the missing soldiers of the Ypres salient. There will probably be 8,000 Canadian names and the high commissioner for Canada fearns that approval has now been given to the positions allocated for the inscription of these names.

Canadians Among Heirs Seeking Fortune

British Estate Valued at Considerably Over Six Million

Fredericton, N.B.—G. Byron Crawford of Minto, and John Hawkes of South Devon, representing forty odd Canadian and American heirs to the Crawford estate in the British Isles, valued in 1886 at $6,500,000 and now reputed to be worth much more than that amount, have left for Boston, Mass., where they will consult Col. Liability For Wife's Acts

London—Lord Danesfort, famous British lawyer, will move in the house for appointment of a select committee to investigate the necessity of changing the law which makes a husband liable for damages for his wife's misdeeds. The old law, whereby a British wife is regarded as the husband's chattel, has been whittled down, and now, although the husband cannot touch his wife's money, he is responsible for both her debts and torts.

Amundsen May Not Have Competition

Algarsson Polar Trip Held Up For Lack of Funds

London.—The race to the North Pole between Amundsen and Grettir Algarsson of Vancouver, the mere announcement of which stirred two continents a few weeks ago, is in danger of being called off. Amundsen seems likely to have the race all to himself.

The construction of the necessary airship has been delayed for some unexplained cause, but at the Liverpool yard, where Algarsson's craft is to be built, it is said that the Vancouver man will not make the trip this year, the reason assigned being that the necessary financial backing is not forthcoming.

Meanwhile reports from Copenhagen show that Amundsen is all ready to leave and those Canadians on this side who had set their hearts on seeing Algarsson win the honors, are naturally disappointed. Efforts are, however, still being made to ensure that Algarsson will be able to make the attempt.

Friendly Act Toward Germany

Now Represented On Committee Through Suggestion By France

Geneva.—France made a friendly gesture to Germany at the opening of the session of the conference on the control of traffic in arms, when M. Paul Sonceour moved that the steering committee of the conference be enlarged from seven to nine members, so that all sections of the world might be represented, particularly non-members of the League of Nations. Germany, chiefly as a result of this motion, is now represented on the committee.

Considering Trade Treaty With Finland

Question Will Be Submitted to Parliament Shortly

Ottawa.—A trade treaty between Canada and Finland shortly will be submitted to parliament. The acting minister of finance, Hon. J. A. Robb, has given notice of his intention of moving the ratification of a convention to extend "most favored nation" treatment to Finland. Mr. Robb also has given notice of a bill to ratify the trade agreement of July 11, 1924, between Canada and the Netherlands.

Propose Amendments To Canada Grain Act

Ottawa.—Amendments to the Canada Grain Act will be brought down in the House of Commons shortly. Hon. T. A. Low, minister of trade and commerce, has given notice of a resolution, preliminary to legislation, "to make further provisions in respect to the handling and marketing of grain or incident to the buying, selling or transportation of grain; the grading and weighing of grain; the handling of grain in and out by country elevators; the operation, management and control of terminal, public and private elevators; the storing, cleaning and binning of grain, the mixing of grain, and the disposition of screenings."

Railway Co-operation

Pres. Beatty of the C.P.R. Says This Policy Will Not Alone Solve Difficulties

Montreal.—Addressing shareholders of the Canadian Pacific Railway at the annual meeting here, E. W. Beatty, president of the company, declared that although the Canadian Pacific was in favor of a co-operative policy, which would eliminate as far as possible duplicate train service on the lines of that railway system and of the Canadian National Railways, such a policy was not sufficient to constitute a solution of Canada's railway difficulties.

This, he said, was the only proposal that had been discussed between the Canadian Pacific and the Dominion Government and no situation had arisen which should give the shareholders of the company any reason to believe that their interests would be adversely affected in finding a solution to Canada's problems, as regards the Canadian National Railways.

Earthquake Must Have Occurred At Sea

No Report Received of Terrific Tremors Recorded at Ottawa

Ottawa.—Somewhere in the world there has been a terrific earthquake, which, if it occurred in an inhabited portion of the globe, must have caused damage akin to that which was experienced in the terrible earthquake in Tokio.

This is indicated by the earth tremors which were recorded May 5 and 6 at the Dominion Observatory. The earth shocks were of such intensity and of so great a frequency that the officials at the observatory have been unable to determine the distance to the epicenter.

Press dispatches have not carried any news as to the occurrence of an earth tremor anywhere, which leads to the belief it may have occurred somewhere at sea.

Opposes Free Export Of Arms

Latin-American View Given In Speech Before Arms Control Conference

Geneva.—Through the voice of Dr. Gustav Guerrero, of Salvador, noted jurist, who spoke before the international conference on the control of the traffic in arms and munitions, Latin-America told the world that arms should henceforth not be exported freely to countries in the throes of a revolution, but only to governments which have been chosen by constitutional means.

This opinion is thought to represent the views of many South and Central American states, and if put into effect implies an important amendment to the draft convention before the conference, which permits the exportation of arms as soon as the manufacturing country has recognized the government of the purchasing country.

Appeals To Farmers

Quebec.—An appeal to all French-Canadian farmers, especially the younger element, to remain at home and till the soil instead of going away and attempting to wrest a living from a big city was made by Henri Bourassa, managing editor of Le Devoir, Montreal, in an address here.

Canoeist Reaches Rome

Rome.—George H. C. Smythe, Canadian canoeist, paddling from London to Rome, arrived here May 6, and was greeted by a large and enthusiastic crowd.

ROBERT FORKE REMAINS LEADER OF PROGRESSIVES

Ottawa.—Robert Forke has decided to remain as leader of the Progressive party. J. Fred Johnston has resigned as chief whip, and is replaced by C. W. Stewart, Humboldt.

This was officially announced following a caucus of the Progressive party.

This ends the long series of Progressive deliberations which have been under way, in one form or another, since the vote on the budget. At the first formal caucus, Robert Forke submitted a virtual ultimatum, insisting on changes in the parliamentary organization of the party as conditional on his retention of the party leadership.

J. Fred Johnston, of Last Mountain, who is succeeded as chief whip by Mr. Stewart, of Humboldt, was one of the 17 Progressives who voted with the government on the main budget motion.

There was talk after the caucus that some of the 17 may now throw in their lot with the government. A few of them left the caucus before the deliberations ended, but gave no intimation of any intentions to leave the Progressive Party.

Seek Co-operation Of Federal Government

Company Would Erect Pulp and Paper Mill In Manitoba

Ottawa.—Co-operation of the Federal Government to provide sufficient supplies of pulpwood for the enterprise is being sought by the Spanish River Pulp and Paper Company who, in conjunction with J. D. McArthur, have announced their willingness to erect a 200-ton pulp and paper mill in Manitoba. They are willing to pay a price equal to the stumpage of pulpwood to competing mills in Northern and Northwestern Ontario and to leave subsequent prices to be fixed by the crown.

These concessions are sought, the companies claim, only to ensure the getting of a sufficient supply of pulpwood to keep the mill going a number of years. The expenditure on the contemplated mill would be about $5,000,000 or $6,000,000.

Rhineland Radio Ban

Type Your Laundry Tickets on This

This, ladies and gentlemen, is a picture of the only Japanese typewriter in captivity. It is known as the "Hobun" typewriter. It inhabits the offices of Shanghai, Tokio and other Oriental cities; is quite harmless but somewhat difficult to control. It is more complicated than the Theory of Relativity, runs as smoothly as a tank crossing the Rockies and makes more noise than a duet by a boiler factory and a Salvation Army band.

Its function is that of typewriting the Japanese language. It was invented by an Irish mechanic named Kiota Sugimoto and was on the market in 1915. As a piece of machinery it is infinitely superior to the 'typewritia Americana'. The latter very seldom has more than 40 keys, the Hobun has three thousand; the Americana prints a total of 84 characters, and the Hobun nearly four thousand. Then again, anyone can operate the American variety but how many of our stenos could run a Hobun, with its thousands of keys and hundreds of levers.

It has (as we suspected) a unique key-board arrangement. In fact, it has no key-board at all. The type is arranged face upward and serves the dual purpose of key-board and printing-type. To one side of the platen is a lever which, when depressed over the desired character, affectionately picks the character up, rubs it gently on an ink-roller and finally conveys it up to the platen on which the paper is rolled and thus, triumphantly prints the character.

We have stated that the machine is complicated but really it is simplicity itself — you merely learn the Japanese language and a few thousand of ideographic Chinese characters; familiarize yourself with the Hobun's three thousand keys, acquire mastery over its multiplicity of levers and then — go ahead and type.

The specimen shown above was captured by Canadian Pacific officials in China and now occupies much of the floor space of their office in Shanghai. The expert Chinese stenographer seated in front of it, has been known, when a rush is on, to produce as much as one whole page of neatly typed Chinese ideographs a day on his Hobun. This record has not yet been beaten.

FOURTH ANNUAL TOUR TO THE PACIFIC COAST.

Special Train from Winnipeg via Canadian National Railways—Entertainment Provided for at Various Points of Interest on Route.

PERSONALLY CONDUCTED

Personally conducted tours offer the best opportunity for familiarizing oneself with the country traversed. This applies to our own country as well as to the older settled countries of Europe. Canadian National Railways has, for many years, commencing immediately after the close of school for the summer holidays, conducted special parties to the Pacific Coast via Prince Rupert. The tour this year which will be the fourth will again commence at Winnipeg, from which point a special train of modern sleeping car equipment, dining car and radio observation car, will leave July 6th. After stopping at various points of interest, the train will arrive at Prince Rupert on July 11th. At this latter point the party will embark on a palatial steamship for a cruise of 550 miles through the famous "Inside Passage" to Vancouver. While the tour terminates at Vancouver, those who desire to make a trip to Victoria, may have their tickets read "Victoria" as their destination without any additional cost.

This tour is an outing that appeals strongly to teachers as well as to professional men, and business men and women.

The local agent of the Canadian National Railways will be pleased to give you full particulars of this tour, including the cost, choice of routes returning, etc.

Mrs. Carrie Peckham of 837 Van St., London, Ont., says: "I took Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription during my last expectancy to keep up my strength. I had no sick stomach, nor any other distressing ailment such as usually come to the prospective mother, and my baby has been just as fine and well as can be. He is now eight months old and has never known a sick day. I would never hesitate to recommend Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription as a tonic and nervine in young motherhood, for I know that it helps in many ways, both the mother and the child."

A Variation of the Straight-line Frock

The silhouette still follows straight and slender lines, but much fullness is often added at the lower portion of the skirt by means of the circular flounce. A smart combination of materials is achieved by using a white and black printed silk for the main portion of the dress, and soft black satin for the collar, circular flounce and loosely knotted string ties. The model pictured, No. 1053, has short kimono sleeves with a seam on shoulder, and convertible collar. It is an unusually smart design for afternoon wear. Made in sizes 34 to 42 inches bust. As pictured, size 38 requires 3 yards 36 or 40-inch material for the upper part and 1½ yards for the flounce. If dress is made of one material, size 38 requires 4½ yards of 36 or 40-inch.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

SAUL BECOMES A CHRISTIAN

Golden Text: If any man is in Christ, he is a new creature. 2 Corinthians 5.17.

Lesson: Acts 9.1-19.

Devotional Reading: Psalm 32.1-1.

The Text Explained and Illumined

Saul the Persecutor, verses 1, 2. In contrast with Philip's zeal in furthering the increase of believers, Luke now records Saul's zeal in hindering it, and begins his sentence therefore with a But. By means of a vivid metaphor, Luke shows us how Saul's presence brought terror to the hearts of the disciples whom he hunted: "But Saul, yet breathing threatening and slaughter against the disciples of the Lord, went unto the high priest." The metaphor is based on the fact that a person under stress of a great excitement breathes rapidly, pants, in his effort to give expression to his thoughts. From the high priest Saul asked and readily obtained letters to the synagogues in Damascus (the followers of Christ had not yet withdrawn from the Jewish synagogues). The number of Jews living in Damascus was large; in a tumult under Nero ten thousand were put to death. The letters Paul obtained permitted him to arrest believers, whether men or women, and bring them bound to Jerusalem. Paul doubtless intended to return to Jerusalem like a Roman conqueror with his captives. At Jerusalem the captives would have been brought before the Sanhedrin for trial. "In the pride of his Pharisee's heart, he strikes out the idea to reverse the maxim of the Crucified Leader of the hated sect, and go into all the world and suppress the gospel in every creature" (Henry Drummond).

A Powerful Projectile

Armor Piercing Shell Perfected For the British Navy

An armor piercing shell has been perfected for the British navy. Its mighty power to crash its way through the protective armor of battleships would have been thought impossible a few years ago, according to Sir Robert Hadfield, whose firm has perfected the shell. The shell is for 16-inch guns.

Sir Robert said he was not at liberty to disclose the tests applied to the projectile, but enigmatically remarked that "the dream of experts and metallurgists for years has come through."

Sunday Morning's Blaze

About 3 o'clock Sunday morning fire was discovered in the buildings to the rear of the Charlie Ries house on First street. An alarm was turned in, and the volunteer brigade soon had the engine out and throwing a stream on the blaze. In the meantime the flames had spread to the stable and outbuildings to the north. To prevent the blaze spreading, the hotel garage was turned over on its side.

After strenous efforts on the part of the fire-fighters, the Ries house and Zilliox shop were put out of the danger zone.

Some four buildings in all were consumed by the fire, and part of these were covered by insurance. Although the hour was a little soon for the early-risers, everyone was on the job including the town janitor and the poundkeeper.

General satisfaction is felt that the building on Lot Four owned by the Town was saved from the flames.
